Enterra Solutions Teams with LMI to Win BTA Contract

-- Enterra to Provide Thought Leadership and Change Management Expertise --

Reston, VA -- October 22, 2008 -- Enterra Solutions announced that it has teamed with the Logistics Management Institute (LMI) to win a Cross Agency Support Services (CASS) contract from the Department of Defense's Business Transformation Agency (BTA). The LMI-Enterra Solutions contract was one of six awarded. Other contract awardees included: BearingPoint, LLC; Booz Allen Hamilton, Inc.; CACI-CMS Information Systems, Inc.; Deloitte Consulting, LLP; and IBM Corporation. The total value of the contracts for the 6 awardees is $260 million over five years.

According to LMI Vice President Jeffery Bennett, "LMI has compiled a world-class team to offer BTA the best in independent, objective advice. We are pleased to have Enterra Solutions on our team. Enterra Solutions brings broad DoD transformation experience as well as proven success with BTA."

Under this contract, Enterra Solutions will provide thought leadership and change management strategies to the Business Transformation Agency. Deliverables under the contract will include studies and analysis of business processes, governance and organizational design, strategic planning, supply chain streamlining, and change management guidance on legislation, doctrine, policies, processes and procedures.

"Enterra is delighted to team with LMI and welcomes the opportunity to continue its longstanding relationship with the Business Transformation Agency," remarked Stephen DeAngelis, president and CEO of Enterra Solutions. "We have worked closely with the BTA for over a year supporting its mission in Iraq. This contract provides us with an avenue to support its mission at home."

The BTA's Cross Agency Support Services program is part of its effort to improve business support to the Department of Defense and to provide department-wide business agility and information visibility. The CASS contract supports BTA in a number of ways, including IT enhancement, policy development, supply chain transformation, and strategic thought leadership.
